Messenger Boy Gets a Summons for the Millionaire, Alleging that He Was Thrown Downstairs When He Called to Deliver Telegraph Message.

J. Coleman Drayton, millionaire and society man, was arratgaed before Magneristrate Flammer in the Yorkville Court to-day charged by Patrick O'Toole, a measenger boy, with assault. Though the charge was a trivial one, and Mr. Drayton was discharged by the Court after hearing the evidence, the youthful was complaint. The boy has been in this country but six months, and recently went into an A. D. T.'s uniform. He worked at the Pifty-sixth street and Sixth avenue branch of the company, and is considerable induced by the Leonard after the Leonard after the Leonard and the court. That the boy had accompanied him to court. "Did you grab them?" asked the Court.
"No," returned Mr. Drayton:
"The boy says you then pushed him with great force out the door," continued the Court.
"I just laid my hand on his breast,
when I handed back his book to him."
answered the millionaire smilling."I am positive that I did not push him."
"There must be some mistake here."
interposed Mr. Osborne for his client; withs boy's statement is not enough to base a serious charge on.
"I don't see how I can hold Mr. Drayton on this evidence," said Magistrate Flammer, turning to Assistant DistrictAttorney Cerrigan, who had hardly said adzen words in the course of the proceedings. "There is absolutely no corroboration for the complaint.

The regular committee formally refused to accept the proposition of the union committee to make a selection of a candidate for Governor from the names furnished.

Shortly after 3 o'clock the union committee went to the headquarters of the regular committee and submitted a proposition for the withdrawal of all the candidates on both tickets and the submission of the question to common primaries for the election of delegates to a State convention, the delegates so elected to nominate a State ticket to be supported by both factions.

This proposition was taken under consideration.

RESULTS AT DELMAR.

Then Policeman Charles W. Gorsuch, of the East Sixty-seventh street station, was called up for being absent from post. Roundsman Rafsky was the complainant, and the testimony developed the fast that there was considerable animosity existing between the two men. Rafsky said that he had been allowed to go to a barber shop near the station-house to be shave! White he was sitting down Gorsuch came in and said: "Now I've got you. You go out and patrol like the rest of us."

The roundsman replied by charging the policeman with being off his relieving point, whereupon, Rafeky alleged, Cloruch swore at him.

"Wherever there is an equal balance of doubt," adjudged Mr. Lindsley, "I must uphold the superior officer. If a policeman desires to revenge himself upon his roundsman he must remain on his post his full eight hours. I fine the accused three days pay."
